NCSL Head Office team standing together to show support for the campaign to end gender based violence.

NCSL SUPPORTS the campaign to end gender-based violence. Staff at the Port Moresby Head Office turned up to work in black as a show of support to end violence of any form, especially against women and also remembering all the men and children around the country and world who lost their lives as a result of violence.

The staff at NCSL have been encouraged to participate in activities that will promote awareness on human rights and respect for one and other.

NCSL savings assist members

MEMBERSHIP to NCSL continues to be beneficial to many members as it assists them with their everyday needs, achieving medium to long term goals and most importantly improving their quality of life.

Shirley and John Taka from Western Highlands are such members. Three years ago, using their NCSL savings, the happy couple hosted a beautiful wedding and got married in their hometown of Mt. Hagen.

Shirley who works as a Senior Accounts Officer with Kumul Agriculture Limited has been a loyal NCSL member for over 5 years whilst her husband John, has been a member since 2012.

Here’s what she says; “NCSL has helped me a lot and that’s why I’ve also opened an account under Kids Savings for my two year old daughter for her educational needs in the future,” said Shirley.

Another member is Ignatius Dongmai who works with Newcrest Lihir and lives in Madang. Using his NCSL savings, he built wardrobes and completed his house. Ignatius who has been a member since 2006 said he also bought his carpentry tools like the router with his NCSL savings.

“I feel NCSL is one of the best options I’ve taken because it has enhanced my life,” he expressed.

NCSL membership is open to the general public, including private and public sector employees and those earning some form of income so that they can save

Join NCSL today and enjoy the benefits like John, Shirley and Ignatius.

More members benefit through NCSL

TEPONA Porali who works with Oil Search based in Kutubu says “the service NCSL is providing is excellent, members have more flexibility in refinancing their loans and also the loan interest is just stunning.”

He used his savings in late 2017 to buy his car and has been a member for almost 7 years now.

Nicole Rubiang says; using my savings, we celebrated my son’s 8th birthday.

Raphael Vigil said he paid for his vehicle using his savings.

Michael Balema from Kimbe says despite working in the mining industry, he still runs out of funds to support projects he wants to do during his field breaks. However, was able to complete his dream in May this year through NCSL loans and from his savings. Michael has been a member since 2016.

Lae Brothers Engineering signs up with NCSL

NEWLY established electrical contracting business Lae Brothers Engineering (LBE) has signed up to become a merchant with NCSL.

The firm, LBE will soon have an EFTPOS terminal installed to make it easy for their customers. The NCSL PoS terminal also takes other bank cards and charges a minimal fee of 0.25Toea per transaction.

NCSL took this opportunity to introduce its savings products. Owner Ernesto Intalan also signed up for the Employer portal for staff deductions.

Intalan and his management team have also filled out forms to become NCSL members along with 21 staff. Pictured is Ernesto filling out his NCSL membership form.

NCSL visits Goodman Fielder (GFI) staff

NCSL'S MEMBERSHIP continues to grow steadily through increased financial literacy and member awareness. Last week NCSL's Darryl Makora of its Madang office, spoke to employees of Goodman Fielder International (GFI) about how to save money, the different products and services offered by NCSL, the benefits of being a member, and how to sign up new members.

The awareness was coordinated through NCSL's Marketing Department reaching GFI employees in Mt. Hagen, Port Moresby and Madang.

NCSL savings allows its members to cover for their short to medium term goals and we invite interested individuals to join today. Membership registration can also be done online via the website www.ncsl.com.pg or by visiting the nearest NCSL office in your area.
